Asia HRD Congress™ Awards 2010 is now open for Nominations

Asia HRD Congress™ Awards 2010 aims to honour HRD professionals who have demonstrably enriched and have made a lasting impact on human capital development in the HR community, Organisation, and Society. The Awards Recipients are expected to be role models and thus persons of unquestionable integrity.

Awards will be given out for contribution in the following areas:

I. HR Community

The Awards Recipients shall have made contributions of high value that have been:

- Adopted by HR Practitioners as testimony of their usefulness
- Used by Organisations as they have produced good results
- Adopted as HRD Best Practices for global impact

II. Organisation

The Awards Recipients shall have brought about changes through:

- Introduction of innovative systems / processes
- Impacting overall employee productivity and bottomline

III. Society

The Awards Recipients shall have contributed to the development of society by:

- Contributing ideas in education and training that have been adopted by any community where they have proven to give significant results
- Participating directly in education and learning projects that have impacted the life of any community

IV. Lifetime Achievement

This award is conferred to individuals who have made a lifetime contribution to Human Resources Development. They are usually individuals who have either pioneered selflessly to promising the cause of learning or creating a body of knowledge that has impacted the entire Human Resources Development community and their customers in government, private and non-profit sectors.
